Illinois could switch from the SAT to the ACT next school year

By: Samantha Smylie

Date: March 14, 2024

Illinois public high school students might be taking the ACT instead of the SAT in 11th grade next school year. The state board of education has started the process to award ACT Inc. a three-year, $53 million contract.

Next year, Illinois high school juniors could take the ACT instead of the SAT as the federally-mandated state test. The Illinois State Board of Education has started the process of awarding a three-year, $53 million contract to ACT Inc.

The College Board's contract to administer the SAT for 11th graders and PSAT for ninth and 10 graders is set to expire June 30. The state board is required by federal law to administer accountability assessments to high school students. State law says that exam must be a nationally recognized college entrance exam like the SAT or ACT and must be awarded through a competitive procurement process. All Illinois public high school students must take a college entrance exam in order to receive their high school diploma.

The ACT would be administered in school buildings starting with the school year 2024-25, but students will still be able to take the SAT if they want to pay for it.

Illinois' plan to switch tests comes at a time when the SAT is going fully digital and will take two hours instead of three. (The ACT is three hours). The new SAT will also be adaptive, with test questions that adjust in difficulty based on how students respond to previous questions.

While around 2,000 schools nationwide have become test optional or test free, elite universities like Yale, Brown, and M.I.T have backtracked and reinstated standardized tests as an admission requirement.

Illinois used the ACT for 15 years before the state board switched to the SAT in 2016. Since then, the state board has renewed the College Board's contract several times. In 2016 and 2018, ACT Inc. protested the state's College Board contract without success.

The new contract says that ACT Inc. will provide an assessment to ninth, 10th and 11th graders that aligns with the Illinois Learning Standards in English and math. The next step in the process is for certain parties to protest the bid. In the past, when the College Board was awarded a contract, ACT Inc. protested it. The board has not said when it will formally approve the contract.

A spokesperson for Chicago Public Schools said in an email to Chalkbeat that "CPS urges that if ISBE makes a change in the high school accountability assessment selection, they allow at least a year transition period before any new assessment becomes mandatory to ensure a smooth transition for our students."

The Chicago Board of Education renewed a three-year contract with College Board in April 2023 and a spokesperson for the district said it plans to continue administering the PSAT and SAT until at least 2026.

Matthew Raimondi, who works at district U-46 in Elgin, asked the board on Wednesday morning at their monthly meeting not to move forward with contracting with ACT Inc. because he says the exam has not changed for years and does not align with the state's learning standards.

"That high school assessment is ultimately going to guide how teachers teach. Teachers are going to teach to the test that you select," said Raimondi. "I urge you as board members to make sure you make the best decision to move Illinois forward and not back to a test from the last century."

State Superintendent Tony Sanders wrote in a weekly message Tuesday that the state board will ensure that assessments are in line with the board's learning standards and that ISBE will provide schools with "ample support."

Cassie Creswell, executive director of Illinois for Public Families, says that no matter what tests the state switches to, she wants to protect Illinois' students from having their data sold to other institutions.

Creswell urged board members on Wednesday to stop allowing testing agencies to sell student data that they collected through their exams. Creswell's group recently sent a letter to state Attorney General Kwame Raoul asking his office to enforce the state's student data privacy law, the Illinois Student Online Privacy Protection Act.

"Any new contract signed with the College Board or ACT Inc. should be clear that data sales are illegal and will no longer be tolerated," Creswell said. "There is no exception in the student data privacy law for asking students or parents permission for sales. Licensing is actually the same as selling or renting data." Creswell said.

In February 2024, the New York attorney general announced that the College Board is set to pay $750,000 in a settlement for sharing and selling student data it collected through the SAT, PSAT, and Advanced Placement tests.

In a good way, Christina Stankus loudly makes her presence felt for Bartlett. 'I'm pretty much a big extrovert.'

By: Patrick Z. McGavin

Date: March 14, 2024

Bartlett's Christina Stankus (8) throws a pitch against Waubonsie Valley during a nonconference game in Aurora on Wednesday, March 13, 2024.

Junior pitcher Christina Stankus is often heard before she is seen for Bartlett.

She's not shy about making her presence known around the softball field.

"I'm pretty much a big extrovert," Stankus said. "I like everyone knowing that I'm here. I'm very loud, and I love being a leader on the field, especially when I'm in the circle."

“I just feel the extra level of excitement.”

Stankus showed off all sides of her game — and her personality — Wednesday afternoon for the Hawks during a 14-4 victory in five innings over host Waubonsie Valley in Aurora.

Junior shortstop Emma Engels and senior infielder Ellie Klein each had two RBIs as Bartlett (1-0) erupted for a nine-hit, nine-run fourth inning. Senior infielder Lauren Liquori added two doubles.

Senior infielder Hannah Laub had two hits and two RBIs for Waubonsie Valley (0-2).

Stankus struck out four, walked one, scattered six hits and allowed two earned runs. As the cleanup hitter, she smacked an RBI double, scored a run and also had a stolen base.

From the start, she set aside any worries about season-opening jitters. She was locked in and ready to play.

Bartlett's Lauren Ligouri (2) rounds second base against Waubonsie Valley during a nonconference game in Aurora on Wednesday, March 13, 2024.

“I was very excited because I’ve missed playing softball the past few months this offseason,” Stankus said. “Now that I’m an upperclassman, my role has changed. I love being a leader.”

Indeed, she also flustered the Warriors with her command and versatility.

“My pitching style has definitely changed throughout the years,” she said. “I have really started to use my change-up to my advantage.

“I’m more of a spin pitcher than a power pitcher. I have also gained a lot of speed in the past year, so I know my velocity is helping.”

Pitching, meanwhile, is the family calling card. Her older brother Robby, a Loras recruit, pitches for Bartlett's baseball team. Her mother, Angie, is an assistant coach for the Hawks' softball team.

Christina, who also plays forward in basketball, has been playing softball since age 4.

Bartlett's Christina Stankus (8) runs to second base in the fifth inning against Waubonsie Valley during a nonconference game in Aurora on Wednesday, March 13, 2024.

"I'm a very competitive person — I love playing and competition," she said. "I also love that it's a team sport. I love working with the people around me.

"These girls are like my sisters. I spend all of my time with them."

Twin sisters Grace and Julia Wilkens are two of her closest friends. The senior outfielders have watched Stankus flourish while coming of age.

"Christina has developed tremendously as a player over the past six years I've played with her," Julia Wilkens said. "She brings power from the left side of the plate and has speed down the line."

Grace Wilkens lauded Stankus' versatility and ability to impact things in front or behind the plate.

"She is just always somebody we can count on," Grace said. "Her enthusiasm on and off the field brings a lot of energy that the team needs."

Bartlett's Christina Stankus (8) delivers against Waubonsie Valley during a nonconference game in Aurora on Wednesday, March 13, 2024.

Stankus became a full-time starter as a sophomore. She learned how to confront the pressure and demands of the position.

"Going into last year, knowing I had the starting position, that was definitely an adjustment," she said. "I had to get used to going the full time and throwing multiple games in a week.

"Now, I have really started to get used to it. I really enjoy the work."

Stankus also is a workout warrior. She's as methodical and dedicated on working out at the gym as she is to the subtleties of pitching.

Bartlett coach Jim Wolfsmith applauded her tenacity and approach.

"Christina has that great combination of talent and work ethic," he said. "She is constantly working on her physical fitness.

"I've been lucky to coach other Division I level girls who put so much time into getting better."

Girls soccer: Scouting Fox Valley

By: Chris Walker

Date: March 14, 2024

Geneva's Lilly Coats (left) and Batavia's Sarah Koziol go after the ball during a Tri-Cities Night game at Batavia High School on Tuesday, May 2, 2023.

Aurora Central Catholic

Coach: Enrique Anaya (sixth season)

Last year's record: 9-6-2, 3-4 Metro Suburban (eighth place)

Top returning players: Amanda Bush, sr., D; River Grabowski, sr., GK; Olivia Lujano, so., M; Isabella Matty, so., F; Gabby Morales, sr., D

Key newcomers: Maddie Berry, fr., M; Nora Shwartz, fr., GK/F

Worth noting: Anaya said playing in the Girls Catholic Athletic Conference this spring will be tough, but that the Chargers have played some of their best games against those same schools so they'll look to continue battling. "We are excited to start the season with the returning players that we have," he said. "We will still have the new players adjusting to our style. They have been amazing to help our team get stronger."

Bartlett

Coach: Vince Revak (sixth season)

Last year's record: 4-10-4, 4-2-3 Upstate Eight (fifth place)

Top returning players: Megan Keon, jr., GK; Macy Medendorp, sr., D

Key newcomers: Gracie Cwik, sr., D/M; Emily Kopanicak, sr., D/M; Anais Vazquez, fr., D/M

Worth noting: The Hawks are healthy and have added some talented players, including the return of Cwik who played club last year. "What we are waiting to see is which player(s) will step up and score goals for us this year," Revak said. "Hopefully we can find a way back on top of our conference this year." The Hawks only scored nine goals in 18 games last year and were blanked 11 times.

Batavia

Coach: Mark Gianfrancesco (14th season)

Last year's record: 9-8-4, 2-3-2 DuKane Conference (sixth place)

Top returning players: Abi Edwards, sr., F; Hannah Hickman, jr., D; Sarah Koziol, sr., M; Addison Lowe, sr., D; Reece Recker, jr., M; Kimberly Roman, jr., F; Alexa Schorr, jr., D; Brianna Solis, jr., F; Addison Solomon, jr., F; Emma Stoodley, sr., D; Natalie Warner, jr., F

Top new players: Reagan Sulaver, jr., GK; Emma Wecker, so., F

Worth noting: The Bulldogs saw nine players graduate from a team that pulled over .500 after advancing to the sectional semifinals. They return a great deal of talent, including some players who helped the girls basketball team win a sectional, and 11 players overall who started or received minutes as part of the regular rotation.

Burlington Central

Coach: Jess Arneson (10th season)

Last year's record: 13-7-1 overall, 7-1-1 FVC (second place), Class 2A regional champions

Top returning players: Lenzie Lorkowski, so., GK; Eva Samuelian, sr., M; Kendall Grigg, so., M

Top new player: Mekenzie Rogers, so., F

Worth noting: The Rockets won their third regional title last season since 2016 — there was no 2020 season because of the COVID-19 pandemic and Central won a sectional title in 2021 when no regional was held. Central returns nine players and Arenson is excited to watch the Rockets' continued growth. "We are excited to have as many returners as we do," Arenson said. "With a strong group of returners, newcomers should easily mesh." Lorkowski returns after earning IHSSCA All-Sectional Honorable Mention and All-Fox Valley Conference honors. ... The Rockets will try to win their first FVC title since joining the conference in 2019.

Cary-Grove

Coach: Ray Krystal (18th season)

2023 season: 8-8 overall, 5-4 FVC (fifth)

Top returners: Katelyn Gitzke, sr., D; Emily Larry, sr., D; Kayli McMorris, sr., F;

Madison Hoffman, sr., D; Sarah Stanojev, sr., F

Key newcomer: Ellie Santucci, jr., M

Worth noting: The Trojans failed to win a regional title for the first time in four seasons with a younger team. They'll try to take their next step. "We are looking forward to these players continuing to develop and benefit from the leadership of our upperclassmen," Krystal said. ... Santucci returns after missing last season due to injury. ... C-G will have to figure things out quickly. The Trojans' FVC opener is with last year's No. 2 Burlington Central and then defending champions Crystal Lake Central. "We look to improve throughout the season as we learn to work together," Kystal said. "We will face a tough schedule both in and out of the conference."

Crystal Lake South

Coach: Caitlyn Dayton (first season)

2023 season: 4-14-1 overall, 0-8-1 FVC (tied ninth)

Top returners: Kelly Gignac, sr., M; Carly Gorman, sr., D/M; Sydney Kroening, sr., M; Brynn LeFevre, sr., D; Mackenzie Resch, sr., D; Autumn Samples, sr., F; Emily Stewart, sr., GK; Addison Schwab, jr., D

Key newcomers: Marin Gorman, fr., M; Addison Hall, fr., D; Gracey LePage, fr., M/F;

Tessa Melhuish, fr., M; Raelynn Ranum, fr., D

Worth noting: Dayton takes over the program in her first head coaching stint. "I am looking forward to seeing how the team responds to a new coaching staff as well as being able to compete with a good mix of newcomers being added into a core group of upperclassmen,” Dayton said. ... The Gators will try to reach the top half of the FVC for the first time since 2018. South last finished with a conference-winning record in 2022. ... With a smaller team, Dayton will rely on her newcomers. “Many of our freshmen can make an impact from the start,” Dayton said. “We have a smaller team, so everyone is going to have to be ready at any point.”

Elgin

Coach: Alicia Knoll (13th season)

Last year’s record: 9-7-2, 5-3-1 Upstate Eight (fourth place)

Top returning players: Dahlia Perez, sr., M; Emelia Rodriguez, sr., M

Key newcomers: Michelle Ayala, fr.

Worth noting: The Maroons had 11 seniors a season ago. This year they’ll look for big seasons from Perez (13 goals, 7 assists) and Rodriguez (5 goals, 9 assists) while gaining experience for their less seasoned played. “We have a very new team,” Knoll said. “We will be working on building chemistry throughout the season. We are hoping to be stronger each day and grow together as a team.”

Dundee-Crown

Coach: Rob Moulton (third season)

2023 season: 2-15-1 overall, 0-8-1 FVC (tied ninth)

Top returners: Araceli Mendez, sr., M; Ashley McAtee, sr., GK; Shanty Perez, sr., D; Emilia Arias, sr., M; Charlene Hernandez, jr., D; Lynette Morales, jr., M; Mackenzie Lessner, jr., M; Rylie Mensik, so., F; Ashling Otte, so., D; Ciara Jost, so., D; Lucia Farias, so., D

Key newcomers: Karissa Hernandez, so., F; Kaydence Delli, so., M; Madelyn Peralta, fr., M; Lizbeth Romero, fr., M; Varlerie Hernandez, fr., M

Worth noting: The Chargers will try to turn last season’s tough losses into wins this season. Moulton is confident that this season’s leaders can help their team and new teammates figure out how to win in key moments. “We have a great group of seniors with some young talent,” Moulton said. “Our team is looking to build on last year and to finish more close games.” ... D-C lost seven matches by two or fewer goals last season. Moulton is looking forward to the Chargers flipping the score in a few of those close matches.

Geneva

Coach: Megan Owens (16th season)

Last year’s record: 18-6-1, 4-2-1 DuKane (third place)

Top returning players: Lilly Coats, sr., M; Jordan Forbes, sr., GK; Caroline Madden, sr., M; Olivia Rawls, sr., F; Even Schokora, sr., M; Audrey Stredde, so., F; Leyna Yonehara, sr., D

Top new players: Maggie Anderson, D; Ella Howard, F; Elle Larsen, M; Riley Pryor, D; Skylar Rothaar, fr., GK; Lilly Vostal, M

Worth noting: 13 Vikings return, including 10 seniors. Seniors Cami Bishop, Hope Ieler, Ashley Marquart and Madison Rees also are among those mentioned above. “Rarely do you get such a large group of seniors on a team,” Owens said. “So we are looking forward to benefiting from their leadership. We have experience, talent and a team who is willing to work hard. We aim to improve every day.”

Hampshire

Coach: Kelly Madison (fifth season)

2023 season: 12-6-2 overall, 5-3-1 FVC (fourth)

Top returners: Ilse Marquez jr., M; Amelia Ingebretsen, sr., M; Isabel Morales, sr. M; Sydney Hedderich, sr., D; Madison Koth, sr., D

Key newcomer: Langston Kelly, fr., F/M

Worth noting: Hampshire will try to get over the hump and win a regional title after competing in the title game the last two seasons. The Whip-Purs lost to Barrington last season in the regional championship. The Broncos went on to finish runner-up in the Class 3A state tournament. ... Ingebretsen returns after earning All-FVC honors last season and helping move the ball up the field from the middle of the pitch. ... A record 65 girls tried out to play soccer at Hampshire in all levels.

Huntley

Coach: Matt Lewandowski (seventh season)

2023 season: 17-4-3 overall, 5-1-3 FVC (third), Class 3A regional champions

Top returners: Gabi Farraj, jr., M; Maddie Cummings, so., M; Maizie Nickle, so., F; Alex Szydlowski, sr., F; Jaci Laramie, jr., D

Key newcomers: Bella Fusco, jr. M; Itzel Martinez, fr., D

Worth noting: The Red Raiders won their first regional title since 2017 and their first under Lewandowski. “We’ve got a good group of core returners ready to build on last year,” Lewandowski said. “We graduated a large number of role players, but we have solid young players.” ... Huntley will try to take another step after finishing top-three in the FVC. “We should be a tough group to play against that isn’t afraid to get scrappy if need be,” Lewandowski said. “Hopefully the experiences we got at the end of last season can help to get us one step further.” ... Farraj returns after earning all-sectional honorable mention and All-FVC last year.

Jacobs

Coach: Colin Brice (fourth season)

2023 season: 11-8-1 overall, 4-4-1 FVC (sixth place)

Top returners: Bella Mickey, sr., F; Gabby Wojtarowicz, jr., M; Delaney Lukowski, sr. M; Sam Diaz, jr., M

Key newcomers: Isabella Farias, fr., M; Mariela Perez, fr. D; Avery Maloney, so., M

Worth noting: The Golden Eagles are ready to be competitive both in the FVC and regional-title races. Jacobs last won a regional title in 2018 and has competed in a regional championship each year since. ... Loyola-Chicago commit Wojtarowicz returns after scoring 20 goals, earning all-sectional and All-FVC honors. “Wojtarowicz will be one of the top girls soccer players in the area and [I'm] excited to see her excel on the field," Brice said. "She is a great leader and hard-working player." ... Brice is also excited to see Farias produce as a freshman. "Farias will make an immediate impact in our offense and is a great addition to our team," Brice said.

Kaneland

Last year's record: 14-6, lost to Benet Academy in a Class 2A Nazareth semifinal

Top new players: Olivia Davis, fresh., MF/F; Audrey Noring, fresh., MF; Sophia Rosati, fresh., MF; Alondra Mendoza, soph., MF

Worth noting: After going undefeated in the Interstate 8 last year, the Knights bring back eight starters and 12 returners as they look to repeat as champs. The regional title last year was the first for the Knights since 2016. With the experience they return, they'll have their sights set on the program's first sectional title since 2015. Brigid Gannon is one of the graduation losses, a 30-goal scorer, but Kunzer and Jade Schrader both scored in the double-digits last year as well.

Larkin

Coach: Mike Huizar (fourth season)

Last year's record: 4-15-3, 1-6-2 Upstate Eight (eighth place)

Top returning players: Zazil Bahena, sr., F; Brinlee Jimenez, so., M; Mia Montesinos, sr., M

Key newcomers: Asiris Perez, fr., D

Worth noting: Bahena and Montesinos are fourth-year starters. This will be the first season where Huizar is coaching a team that's 50/50 upperclassmen/underclassmen.

"We are looking to have a much more stable season that focuses on playing to our strengths and capitalizing on our years of experience playing varsity soccer," he said.

"Half of the team are returning players from the last two years with the majority of new players coming from the freshman and sophomore classes. We are still younger than the average team, but we have a good mix of experience and new, eager players."

Rosary

Coach: Amy McMahon (fourth season)

Last year's record: 4-10-1, 1-3 Metro Suburban (10th place)

Top returning players: Abby Cibulskis, sr.

Key newcomers: Kaylany Aburto, so., Kendelyn Bielawa, fr., Jalen Lawson, fr.; Gabby Smith, so.

Worth noting: McMahon said the Royals are in rebuilding mode this spring after graduating 10 seniors. A pair of freshmen and sophomores are among the newcomers who will have an opportunity to step in right away.

South Elgin

Coach: Jerzy Skowron (fifth season)

Last year's record: 10-9-4, 7-0-2 Upstate Eight (first place)

Top returning players: Ella Dihel, sr., F; Laura Garcia, so., M; Ashley Gonzalez, jr., D; Adeline Kinsella, sr., M; Callie Miller, jr., M; Cami Stokes, sr., D; Mia Traver, jr., D; Ellie Vidic, so., M

Key newcomers: Avianna Hernandez, so., M; Lilliana Rodriguez, fr., GK; Christina Slovik, fr., M; Lucy Tomasi, fr., M

Worth noting: Dihel (17 goals last year) might be out for the season which is especially frustrating since the Storm have improved returning players and talented newcomers. Stokes and Gonzalez will look to lead a new and inexperienced back line. Hernandez, a Larkin transfer, will look to be part of a talented group of attackers that includes Gyurko, Kinsella, Slovik and Tomasi. Skowron said last year's loss to Geneva in the postseason is providing extra motivation for the team to make a deep run this spring.

St. Charles East

Coach: Vince DiNuzzo (seventh season)

Last year's record: 20-4-0, 5-2 DuKane (second place)

Top returning players: Sidney Lazenby, jr., GK; Mackenzie Loomis, sr., D; Alli Saviano, sr., M

Top new players: Presley Kannaka, fr., D; Mia Olenek, fr., GK; Sophia Wollenberg, fr., M/F

Worth noting: The Saints will lean on a pair of fourth-year seniors, Saviano and Loomis, to mentor and lead a young team that includes 14 underclassmen. The biggest class is the sophomores with eight on the roster including Georggia Desario, Reese Kyle, Payton Rivard, Anika Dodrill and Tatum Smith who got introduced to varsity soccer a year ago. Lazenby returns for her third season in net.

St. Charles East goal keeper Sidney Lazneby (1) saves the ball from going into the back of the net on Saturday May 27th during the sectional title game held at West Chicago Community High School.

St. Charles North

Coach: Brian Harks (ninth season)

Last year's record: 17-4-2, 6-0-1 DuKane Conference (first place)

Top returning players: Kayla Floyd, sr., M; Kaitlin Glenn, jr., F; Chloe Kirsten, jr., D; Juliana Park, sr., M; Rian Spaulding, sr., F; Laney Stark, sr., F

Top new players: Kaitlyn Nudera, so., F; Kyra Treanor, sr., D

Worth nothing: The North Stars have 16 upperclassmen, including Floyd, Park, Spaulding and Stark who combined for 34 goals and 23 assists last spring. Treanor (Brown) joins the team from club. “Our girls possess a strong work ethic, they are highly skilled and they possess a high soccer IQ,” Harks said. “We are excited to get out on the field and compete this season.”

Benet Academy's Katie Lawellyan and St. Charles North's Kayla Floyd compete in the Naperville invitational girls soccer tournament on Friday, April 22, 2022.

St. Edward

Coach: Tim Brieger (30th season)

Last year's record: 4-17-2, 0-6 Metro Suburban (11th place)

Top returning players: Bella Buono, sr., D; Annaly Soto, sr., F; Frankie Wojtas, sr., F

Key newcomers: Amelia Davis, jr., M; Jillian Garcia, jr., M; Taylor Kapetan, so., M

Worth noting: The Wave is ready to strike. They have their biggest roster in years (28 players) and a senior class (none last year). “The Wave is completing the rebuild,” Brieger said. All 11 starters return along with some key contributors from the bench.

Streamwood

Coach: Santiago Martín (first season)

Last year's record: 5-17-1, 1-7-1 Upstate Eight (10th place)

Top returning players: Milanie Martinez, jr., M; Sharon Salazar, so. D; Reyna Saldivar, sr., F

Key newcomers: Nataly Barrera, fr., F; Emilee Martinez, fr., F; Valerie Pinedo, fr., F

Worth nothing: Martín takes over the program and will look to accommodate the team's new talent with the experienced players who return. The team welcomes six freshmen.

West Aurora

Coach: Jorge España (first season)

Last year's record: 5-12-2, 2-8-1 Southwest Prairie Conference (10th place)

Top returning players: Olivia Del Toro, jr., M; McKenzie Pearch, so., M
Key newcomers: Morgan Adler, fr.; Sarahi Carlos, fr., Makayla Parra, fr.
Worth noting: España, who has been teaching in the West Aurora School District since 1997, takes over the program. He said he expects to know a lot more about the team as the season gets underway while he tries “to establish an environment of high expectations and develop consistency in the program.”
